SBA, NPR, ROLLOUT NEW U.S. BUSINESS ADVISOR INTERNET SITE

WHAT: The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) and Vice President Gore's National Partnership for Reinventing Government (NPR) will unveil the new, product-improved U.S. Business Advisor Internet site. The interactive Business Advisor provides 'one-stop shopping' for small businesses seeking information from the federal government on a wide range of topics including business development, financing, taxes, laws and regulations.

SBA Deputy Administrator Fred Hochberg and NPR Executive Director Morley Winograd will host the demonstration. The rollout is being held in conjunction with the SBA's Vision 2000 conference. The event spotlights state and local initiatives in small business development.

WHEN: Thursday, December 2, 11:30 am

WHERE: U.S. Chamber of Commerce
1615 H Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20062
Nearest Metro stop is Farragut West
